MESSAGE FROM FR. MANO

Everyone wants to live life happily. We may be ready to undergo some pain and difficulty to make our lives smooth and nice. But will we be ready to face difficulties to make others' lives happy? Will we be ready to bring happiness into the unknown people's lives? Have we ever done it before? A young man from Spain, in 1580, came to understand: "I must dedicate myself to the service of God until death." He felt a call. Its clearer contours were still hidden from him, but he knew that he had to follow it. So, at 20, Peter joined the Society of Jesus. While studying philosophy, the young religious was influenced by St. Alphonsus Rodriguez.

Alphonsus may not have had much book-learning, but a life of suffering had taught him to listen to God. "How can I love the Lord?" he asked St. Alphonsus. "He gives me a great desire to follow him, but I don't know how." Alphonsus prayed, and the answer came to him: this young man with a great heart was destined to suffer for people far away. At Alphonsus' urging, Peter told his superiors of his desire to go into the missions. In 1610, he left for Cartagena in present-day Colombia, a center of the Spanish slave trade, where ships sailing from West Africa brought 10,000 new slaves yearly.

He dedicated himself by special vow "Peter Claver, the slave of the Africans forever." He had found his calling. Before the slave ships entered port, Fr. Peter begged for bread, medicine, anything he could bring with him into those ships packed tightly with captives chained for so long that a third of the cargo died. He assembled a team of interpreters. As soon as a ship docked, this 'slave of the slaves' descended into the dark holds. He brought food, but more importantly, he brought kindness to men and women driven mad with terror and suffering. He looked at them as if they were human beings, tended their wounds and lent his cloak to the shivering. "We must speak with our hands," he said, "before we speak to them with our lips."

St. Francis of Assisi also insisted "Preach the gospel at all times and if necessary, use words." Peter Claver's hands spoke, and so when he assured these people that God loved them despite the cruelty that men had inflicted on them, they listened. Using simple pictures, he taught them the Christian faith. In small groups, he baptized them – which not only made them members of Christ's body, but enabled Peter to call upon the slave masters to treat their fellow Christians more humanely.

For forty years, Peter descended into the slave ships. He preached, too: to slave traders, criminals and the well-to-do; inviting all to a conversion of heart. In 1650, Fr. Peter caught the plague. He prayed, accepting his sufferings as a penance for his sins. When he died on September 8th, Cartagena buried him at public expense. Only then did they realize what they had had in their midst: this man, whose hands spoke the language of God's compassion, had baptized 300,000 slaves and heard over 5,000 slaves' confessions a year. Let us try to speak with our hands. St. Peter Claver, pray for us.

ST. JOSEPH SCHOOL

These first few weeks of school have been filled with excitement and a renewed sense of our mission at St. Joseph Grade School. We are truly blessed to have such supportive and engaged students, educators, and parents working together to make this a successful and faith-filled year. It is our mission to help every student grow in their relationship with God, and to nurture their academic, social, physical, and emotional well-being.

Our 5th grade students have been trained to be altar servers, and the 4th grade students have already started their training this year. Being an altar server allows students to participate more fully in the liturgy while helping to deepen their connection to their faith. As an altar server, students also become visible role models for our younger students by demonstrating an important contribution to the Church and giving this service to God.

Every week, students attend Mass on Fridays at 9:00 AM. The liturgy is led by a different class each week. The students greet people; read the introduction, first reading, responsorial psalm, and intentions; carry up the gifts; and lead the Prayer to St. Michael and the St. Joseph Parish prayer. Actively participating in the liturgy helps them to understand and appreciate the significance of each part of the Mass. It also enhances their public speaking and communication skills which can build their confidence. As the principal of St. Joe's, Friday Masses are the highlight of my week, and my heart overflows with pride and joy for the students and staff of St. Joseph Grade School!

Thank you for your continued prayers and support of our school!

God bless your week,
Mrs. Mary Kiefer, Principal
