MESSAGE FROM FR. MANO

As many of you know, I will be going home to visit my family after Christmas. It has been a year since I went home and so I am getting excited for my trip. I am still buying Christmas gifts for my nephew and nieces (3). I will start packing very soon. After all our Christmas masses, I will leave Menomonie to drive to Mauston. On the 26th my priest friend will drive me to Madison to take a bus to the Chicago airport. I have three flights and two layovers. Please keep me in your prayers for my safe travels. FYI: please be careful about scam e-mails asking for money. I will never request money. You can always double check with our parish office staff. I am planning to return January 28, 2025.

Last Tuesday's mass we read the genealogy of Jesus. I like reading genealogy. Lots of interesting pronunciation of names. Please take Mt 1:1-17 and enjoy reading the names. Find out how many people you know in this and find out the facts about the people that you don't know. The Genealogy of Jesus is one of the finest treasures of God's Grace and Providence. St. Matthew (1: 1-17) and St. Luke (3: 23-38) present the Genealogy of Jesus. They could be called the forgotten passages of the Christmas Story.

We must realize that in the account of the Genealogy is buried the marvelous working of God's Grace and His Amazing Providence and the way the streams of God's Grace flows through the ordinary and the great, the mighty and simple people. The Genealogy teaches us to open our eyes to see the ways of God working in our lives- hidden yet awesome; silent yet splendid.

The Genealogy mentions some notorious people, yet the Messiah was born in this family. Who are the notorious people according to you in this list? The Genealogy mentions some men and women who are not good people. All these people were considered disgraced: some gentiles, some involved in sexual immorality, some finding themselves in situations of family disgrace. Yet the Messiah is born in this family to show that God's Grace can wash away every disgrace.

The Genealogy gives us the great message of hope. We may have a past that is hurting us either due to our biological family or due to our own experiences in life. A past that is sinful and we wish to forget. A past that is painful or abused. A past that has experienced humiliation and rejection. Yet, the Genealogy teaches us the big lesson that all our past can be cleansed and healed by the mighty presence of Jesus. Are we ready to welcome Him into our lives? Merry Christmas.

Thank you SO much to all the women of the parish who took time to make cookies for the 31st annual Cook Walk last weekend. This is my third year as chair and I'm amazed every year at not only the number of cookies donated but the wonderful women who help set up, plate the cookies (and keep the platters filled) then tear down and clean up. Money received from the Cookie Walk is put towards the Benevolent Fund. Merry Christmas to you all.
